Introduction

From the chair of Safeskies Australia,

Peter Raven AM MAP JP B.Av CMILT FRAeS

As the chair of Safeskies Australia, I'm honoured, alongside the board organising committee, to host our 17th biennial Safeskies conference—Safeskies 2026—in Canberra on May 20 and 21. Since our inaugural event in 1993, Safeskies Australia has become one of the southern hemisphere's largest independent advocates for aviation safety, uniting every sector of the industry with a shared commitment to safety. Aviation safety is no accident: it demands constant vigilance.

Not only does our biennial conference draw industry leaders from across aviation, but our ongoing initiatives such as recent webinars and seminars focused on aerial firefighting, airspace management, human factors, and managing safety systems for both crewed and uncrewed operations, continue to engage an ever-wider array of industry professionals.

Our last conference, Safeskies 2024, was unique in bringing together heads of associations and operators from all sectors for a mini safety summit to address their specific safety concerns. Looking ahead to Safeskies 2026, themed 'Safety Collaboration 2.0', we plan to build on this cross-sector networking and welcome your involvement in what promises to be an even more thought-provoking and engaging program.

As an independent, not-for-profit organisation we are grateful for the past sponsorship support from organisations for our conferences and other activities and invite you once again to support us at Safeskies 2026.

We look forward to welcoming you to Canberra in May 2026.
